DEDICATION

To those who have suffered official history long enough.

To all the historians who wrote the truth and were never acknowledged, or worse, killed.

To all the victims of royalty . . .
which is all of you.

To the victims of royal paedophilia, either directly by a royal,
or by one of their illegitimate children.

To those who have suffered wars created by International Bankers.

To those who know how the world works and to those who want to know.

To the silent generation who are urged to speak out.

PREFACE

You have never lived in History.
You have only ever lived in the Con.

Ideology is for Wankers.
The only thing that counts is the Agenda.

The One World Order is a One World Disorder for everyone else.

I don't know what you mean by Conspiracy.
I'm not the one who Colluded.

Think like a Bloke, write like a God,
or the other way round.

God: "Fix it yourself, I'll help."

Blokedom: "If it ain't broke, don't fix it."

Feminism: "If it works, break it."

One World Order: "Break it and blame it on the new enemies we have created."

. . . Ye Old Sux . . .

This book contains swear words which are either used to quote field-experienced officers accurately, or to illustrate Ye Old English
as it evolved from its many stock languages.

Her Majesty

Queen Elizabeth II

Buckingham Palace

London SW1A 1AA

England

Dear Your Majesty The Queen,

The history you have presented to the public is bunkum. This bunkum history has been maintained by your historians in exchange for cover over their sexual indiscretions. We once swore an oath of loyalty to you and stood for your image and anthem in picture theatres. Those days went out with the afro. We now believe you have been criminally advised and your family is built on the crimes hiding behind your image. Never has a bigger criminal existed than your family over its generations. I regret to point out that everything about you has failed – your marriage, your children’s marriages, those of your ancestors and your rule. You are part of a family occupying a country you have no right to occupy, other than via rights stolen through murder by your forebears. From the study of history I have come to the conclusion that you should be exiled from England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. Your only place of refuge should be the Biographical Encyclopedia – a history of occultists.

Yours sincerely,

Greg Hallett
